Walk In Ready

The Corporate Walk One-Pager

From the Manager Field Script Vault, the RMOS library of 30 field scripts for department managers. This page carries the Vault's corporate walk opening exactly as written, with the preparation checklist drawn from the same scripts.

THE MOMENT

“A corporate or district leader enters your department and asks for the overview.”

The goal: Set a confident, evidence-based frame before the walk becomes reactive.

SAY IT FIRST

> “Welcome to the department. I'll walk you through performance, conditions, people ownership, our biggest opportunity, and the actions already underway.”

Then ask: “Would you like the performance view first, or the physical walk first?”

BEFORE THEY ARRIVE, CHECK EACH ONE

The standard, in the script's words: “Know current sales performance, mix, customer feedback, safety condition, staffing ownership, and top recovery action.”

- ☐ Current sales performance
- ☐ Mix
- ☐ Customer feedback
- ☐ Safety condition
- ☐ Staffing ownership
- ☐ Top recovery action
- ☐ Carry a current one-page department brief; do not rely on memory for exact numbers.
- ☐ Anything still incomplete: write down the reason they give, not the reason you assume.

CLOSE WITH CONTROL

“I'll close with the specific support or decision I need from you.”

LEAVE AT THE DOOR

Don't begin with excuses, staffing complaints, or a tour of everything that is wrong.

THE REST OF THE WALK, IN THE VAULT

- Explaining Sales Performance
- Addressing a Visible Condition Gap
- Explaining Aisle and Category Ownership
- Walking Safety and Recovery Readiness
- Discussing Customer Feedback and Service
- Explaining Staffing and Development
- Presenting a Product or Category Opportunity
- Closing the Walk With Control
